The organising committee is also in the process of seeking cheaper accommodation quotes from other accommodation places within close proximity to the two venues. For those people who may be travelling with a caravan we will also let you know the caravan parks that are closest to the city centre.

Both of the reunion venues are within the city limits and are easily accessible on public transport. Trams within the city limits are free so no need to purchase tickets etc. if using this mode of transport.

A more detailed brief with a registration form will be issued in the near future when further information is known on other accommodation places, caravan parks and costings are locked in.
